

Since New Jersey's Do Not Call Law was enacted, my family finally can resume a normal lifestyle. The telemarketing phone calls forced my wife and I to answer our telephone placing our daughter's health at risk. Our daughter must sleep soundly and receive her medications due to a seizure disorder. We must answer all calls due to not missing an important message. Our constant up and down at times disturbs our daughter, which some evenings occurs 9 to 10 times! I would be glad to testify as to the major inconvenience and intrusion these telemarketers cause. Everyone I meet is very happy with New Jersey's answer to these sometimes rude intruders. Please, we implore you not to cave into the pressure from these quality of life destroyers.
